PARTITIONED PACKET PROCESSING IN A
MULTIPROCESSOR ENVIRONMENT

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A packet processing system includes multiple processors and a set of code partitions that implement a feature set for packet processing. Each of the processors is capable of loading and executing one or more of the code partitions. A context manager enables packet processing operations to migrate between code partitions executing on one or more of the processors.